

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

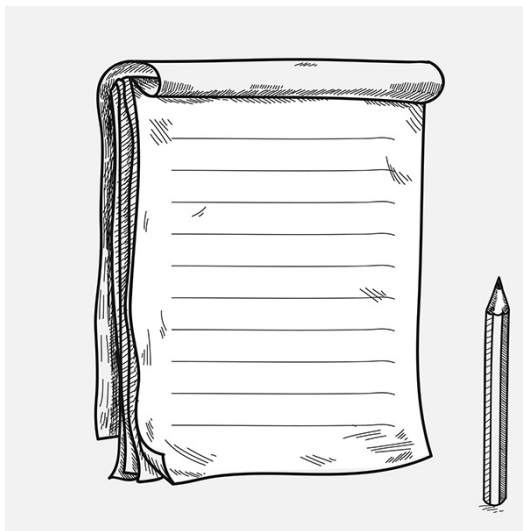

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: A Travel Journal

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Are you a thrill seeker? Why or why not?
- Do you like to do things that are dangerous like skydiving or do you prefer activities that are not dangerous?

Can Do Statements

- I can write about what I did.
- I can express opinions about other people and things in a written way.
- I can write a short travel journal.

Let's Explore!

Here is half of Sally's travel journal entry about her exciting visit to Pamploma. What happened?

* "Entry" means something that is entered or written in a book, list, or journal.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Travel Journal July 7th Pamplona, Spain

I arrived in Pamplona late last night, and today I decided to explore. I was walking around the city, enjoying the sights, when suddenly hundreds of people started filling the streets.

They were very excited and they were all moving in the same direction. I wanted to know where they were going, so I followed them.

Soon we came to a very wide street with barriers along the side. People stood behind the barriers. Suddenly, everyone stopped talking and looked towards one end of the street. A group of men were running down the street as fast as they could, with a herd of bulls chasing them! Someone was trampled. It was all over very fast, but it was definitely an incredible experience! The town festival was the highlight of my vacation so far.

The hotel I am staying at ...

Let's Practice!

What do you include in a travel journal? Can you remember?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Location and Date: | a. I traveled with my friend, Vanessa. |
| 2. Who you traveled with: | b. The food at Mike's Grill was great. There was also a popular seafood restaurant across from the hotel. |
| 3. Where you stayed and if you enjoyed it: | c. I met a person named Jane at the hotel. She gave me her e-mail address, jane@intel.com. |
| 4. Who you met and their contact information: | d. I would definitely go scuba diving again. |
| 5. Places to eat and your comments: | e. We booked a room at the Ritz Hotel and it was fantastic! |
| 6. Things to see and if you would visit again: | f. Hawaii, June 30th 2014 |

Let's Practice!

Can you write sentences in the Simple Past tense? Let's find out!

Instructions: Find and fix the mistake. Each sentence has 1 mistake.

1. I arrive in Pamplona late last night.
2. Soon we come to a very wide street with barriers along the side.
3. Suddenly, everyone stopped talking and looked towards one end of the street.
4. It was all over very fast, but it is definitely an incredible experience!
5. They is very excited and they were all moving in the same direction.
6. This town festival is a highlight of my vacation so far.

Extension Activity

Writing a Travel Journal

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Interview a friend or family member about a holiday or vacation.
- Ask these questions:
 - What was the location and date of your trip?
 - Who did you travel with?
 - Where did you stay? Did you enjoy it?
 - Who did you meet? Did you get their contact information?
 - Where did you eat? Was it good?
 - What would you see again if you returned?
- Use this information to write their travel diary.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I interview a friend or family member about a vacation.

☐ ☐

I ask questions about their holiday.

☐ ☐

I write a travel journal for another person.

☐ ☐

I write complete statements about travel.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- barrier (noun): something that prevents or blocks movement from one place to another e.g. There were barriers along the sides of the street.
- to chase (verb): the act of following and trying to catch e.g. The bulls were chasing the men.
- suddenly (adverb): very quickly in an unexpected way
e.g. Suddenly, hundreds of people started filling the streets.
- to explore (verb): to go through a place to learn more about it e.g. I decided to explore the city.
- herd (noun): a large group of the same animal
e.g. A herd of bulls chased the men down the street.
- to trample (verb): to tread on or crush
e.g. The bulls trampled the man.

Learning Points

Writing A Travel Journal

You write a travel journal to document and remember new places, cultures and experiences.

A travel journal is similar to a diary. They are usually small enough to carry in your hand luggage while you travel.

You usually use the Simple Past tense when you write in a travel journal because you usually write about things after they happen.

A travel diary entry often includes:

- A location and date in the title
- Who you traveled with
- Where you stayed and if you enjoyed it
- Who you met and their contact information
- Places to eat and your comments
- Things to see and if you would visit again

Sometimes, a travel journal entry can be about an experience like watching the “Running of the Bulls” or another event.

Your travel diary should have enough detail for you to visit an area again.

