Let's Start!

Let's talk about places in the city!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can ask and give directions.
- I can tell someone where something is located.
- I can talk about places in a city.

Ask your partner:

- What are your 5 favorite places in the city?
- Do you know where they are?

Let's Explore!

Sally asks how to get to Calle del Monte Esquinza.

* When you need directions you ask "How do I get to ... ?"

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Excuse me?
American male: Yes, how can I help you?
Sally: I'm lost. It's my first time in Madrid. Could you tell me where the Salamanca neighborhood is?
American male: Oh, that's in the vicinity. It's right next to here. Where do you want to go?
Sally: I want to go shopping ... how do I get to Calle de Serrano?
American male: Oh, it has great stores. Okay ... now we're on Calle del Monte Esquinza, at the corner of Calle de Genova. We're in front of the hospital.
Sally: Right. So I walk straight up this lovely street?
American male: Yes, go down to Calle Zurbaran to the traffic lights. There's a parking lot there. There's also a library on the corner. Then turn right. Walk straight for a few blocks and it's right there!

Let's Practice!

The Salamanca neighborhood is lovely. Let's take a walk!

Learning Points

Prepositions of Place

You use prepositions of place to say where places are in a city.

Preposition	Example
in	in Madrid
at	at the store
on	on the corner
next to	next to that building
in front of	in front of the hospital

The preposition comes after the verb and before the noun. They answer the question "Where?".

Examples:

- Let's meet at the store.
- It's on the corner.
- Where is the hospital?
- It's in front of the train station.

Giving Directions Using the Imperative

You can use the modal could to ask for directions.

You can use the Imperative to give directions. When you use Imperatives, you give commands.

Examples:

- Ann: Excuse me, where is the hospital?
- Passerby: Take the first street on the left. Walk straight for two blocks.
- Ann: Could you tell me where the hospital is?
- Passerby: It's in the vicinity of the park. You could take the bus there.
